Harlan Bellin seconded the motion. Peggy gave a treasurer's report with a motion for approval by Mike Miller that was seconded by Harlan Bellin.

Roads

1. Typo Creek Drive update. Jim Watters from MSA shared that we have advertised for bids, which will be opened at the Oxford town hall September 17 at 11 am. So far there are about 8 contractors looking at the bidding website, and Oxford doesn't have to make a decision immediately. Linnea will post notice on the door and on our website for the bid opening as it counts as a public meeting. Jim reported that all the paperwork and permits are submitted at the county level. However, the Isanti county authorization to work in County ditch 20 form needs to be signed. Also, Sandy has to sign a new unsigned Declaration and covenant about the culvert as it needs to be notarized. Jim will send a new form out to the board members.
2. The beaver problem is temporarily resolved.
3. Culverts were placed on Buster's road and cleared just in time for all the rain.
4. Roads are in decent shape, but 263rd is getting rougher. Baylor looks great and residents are happy with the improvements.

Old Business

1. IAJFD updates- Al Jankovich came to the meeting to address the topic of the fire call charges. He reported that the district has brainstormed ways to deal with charges from calls that are exceptionally long or expensive. The outcome is that the majority of the board is in favor of charging the responsible party to cover unplanned expenses. The district has learned that the historical documents are not entirely legal and if challenged by an attorney, IAJFD could be liable for the charges that they have attempted to pass on to the responsible party. An amendment to allow for special charges was given to the Oxford board members to review. In addition to allowing the district to charge responsible parties for service fees, the amendment describes and defines means of collecting fees if they are not paid. Mike remains concerned about the taxation without representation aspect of it. It was brought up that the joint fire district is a political subdivision of all the townships and that the amendment is not to create a new tax, it is to create the ability for the governing body to assign negligence that caused the department to go above normal firefighting methods to fight a fire. Oxford supervisors would like to show the document to our legal council, so no decisions will be made at tonight's meeting. Al reminded everyone that the next fire district meeting is next Wednesday at Station 3.

2. There were no Kennedy and Graven updates this month.
3. Sandy talked to Nate Sondrell and all emergency ID signs are up. Sandy and Nate are going to start working on Oxford street signs, but this may not get done until next year.
